"Our support of Catalyst has extended over 15 years and one of the main reasons is the links Catalyst has with education and its core aim to encourage young people across the region to consider a career in science."

Chris Tane, CEO INEOS ChlorVinyls

"Catalyst help us enormously to deliver the message to children that the Chemical Industry is of vital importance to the future of Britain as a manufacturing nation and an industry with a vibrant future; an essential industry for the well being of mankind and an exciting industry to work in."
